Hello, Dear Church!

I hope all of you have had a fantastic week and are gearing up for the holidays. Thanksgiving is my absolute favorite holiday of the year, and I personally cannot wait for next week. Good food, time with family, cooler weather, football–what more can you ask for?

Before we get there, remember that we have our men's prayer breakfast on Saturday. We also have communion Sunday to look forward to during which time we will bless the OCC boxes before carrying them to the cars. A big thank you to everyone who helped during our packing day last Sunday. I am so grateful that we will put a big smile on the faces of so many children this Christmas season in Jesus' name. We also have our quarterly business meeting after worship and will announce our 3 new ministry council members for next year.

I hope during this week and next you will begin to reflect on all of the many blessings for which you are thankful. God has been so good to us, and may we always pay it forward to bless others.

With love,
Pastor Zach
